

Gender perspective and intersectionality applied to human and psychosocial sciences (26/03/2021 - 26/03/2021)

INFORMACIÓ GENERAL

Títol activitat:	Gender perspective and intersectionality applied to human and psychosocial sciences - 70000021
Tipus activitat:	Taller	Hores:	2
Impartit per:	ORIOL GINES CANALES ( Associació Conexus )
Sessions:	Dia 26/03/2021	Hora 10:30 h - 12:30 h	Aula Sessió no presencial via Google Meet. S'enviarà l'enllaç als inscrits

INFORMACIÓ DETALLADA

DESTINATARIS

TARGET

Doctorate students in robotic

OBJECTIUS

OBJECTIVES

- Allow participants to explore gender perspective and intersectionality and known some key concepts about
- Be aware of our stereotypes about gender and intersectionality applied to different aspects of the process of the sciences
- Help participants to find better forms of development of human interactions in the field of robotic

PLA DE TREBALL

TIMETABLE

Webinar and recommended bibliography

TEMARI

---

CONTENTS / SYLLABUS

- Stereotypes about gender and other human oppressions
- Why gender perspective and intersectionality have importance in human interactions

METODOLOGIA

---

METHODOLOGY

Study of cases, theory introduction, group discussion, applied methodologies, critic perspective

BIBLIOGRAFIA

---

REFERENCES / RECOMMENDED BIBLIOGRAPHY

- In a different voice, Gilligan Carol.
- Intersectionality, Patricia Hill Collins
- Ciencia, cyborgs y mujeres, Donna Haraway

CERTIFICACIÓ

---

CERTIFICATION

The certification to the participants will be subject to the prior registration and acceptance by the established means (electronically through the website) and the positive evaluation of the work proposed by the trainers.